Cancellation Policies for Homes

Airbnb Help Center, fully detailed summary - October 23, 2026

1. Overview

Every home listing has two cancellation policies chosen by the host: one for short stays (27 nights or fewer) and one for monthly stays (28 nights or more). The policy that applies to your booking is shown on the listing and in your reservation details. Hosts must pick policies that comply with local rules and regulations.

2. Important rules that apply to every policy

- Full refund means the price the host set for the listing, including taxes. Refunds of Airbnb guest service fees depend on separate rules (see the guest refunds document).
- Cancellation and booking-confirmation times are always measured in the listing's local time zone.
- 24-hour cancellation period: every standard policy for stays under 28 nights lets the guest cancel for a full refund including taxes within 24 hours of confirmation, provided the booking was confirmed at least 7 days before check-in.
- Certain non-refundable hotel listings are exempt from the 24-hour period.
- Airbnb sometimes tests new cancellation policies. If your policy is not described here, the reservation details are the reference.

3. Standard policies - stays of 27 nights or fewer

Policy	Full refund incl. taxes	Cancel later, before check-in	Cancel after check-in
Flexible	Until 24 hours before check-in	Taxes are pro-rated. The host is paid for each night stayed plus one extra night.	Host is paid for nights stayed plus one extra night; taxes pro-rated.
Moderate	Until 5 days before check-in	Taxes refunded in full. Host is paid for one extra night plus 50% of all unspent nights.	Taxes pro-rated. Host is paid for nights stayed, one extra night, and 50% of unspent nights.
Limited (bookings made on or after Oct 1, 2025)	Until 14 days before check-in	7 to 14 days before: 50% refund including taxes (host paid 50%). Under 7 days: taxes refunded only, host paid 100% of nights.	No refund; host paid 100%.
Firm	Until 30 days before check-in	7 to 30 days before: 50% refund including taxes (host paid 50%). Under 7 days: taxes refunded only, host paid 100% of nights.	No refund; host paid 100%.

The 24-hour period sits on top of all of these (for bookings confirmed 7+ days before check-in). The 50% rows apply after the 24-hour period has ended.

Invitation-only policies (offered only to certain hosts)

Policy	Cancel...	Result
Strict	7 or more days before check-in (after the 24-hour period)	50% refund including taxes; host paid 50%

Policy	Cancel...	Result
	Under 7 days before check-in	Taxes refunded only; host paid 100%
	After check-in	No refund
Super strict 30 days	At least 30 days before check-in	50% refund including taxes
	Under 30 days before check-in	Taxes refunded only; host paid 100%
	After check-in	No refund
Super strict 60 days	At least 60 days before check-in	50% refund including taxes
	Under 60 days before check-in	Taxes refunded only; host paid 100%
	After check-in	No refund

4. Long-term policies - monthly stays (28+ nights)

Policy	Full refund incl. taxes	Cancel after that
Firm	Cancel at least 30 days before check-in	Taxes refunded. Host is paid for nights already spent plus the next 30 nights. If under 30 nights remain, the host is paid for all remaining nights (taxes pro-rated). After check-in, Airbnb's text states no refund.
Strict	Cancel within 48 hours of booking AND at least 28 days before check-in	Taxes refunded. Host is paid for nights spent plus the next 30 nights. If under 30 nights remain, host is paid for all remaining nights. After check-in: no refund.

Wording for stays already in progress is complex. The reservation's refund breakdown shows the exact numbers.

5. Non-refundable option

For stays under 28 nights, a host can also offer a discounted non-refundable rate that ignores the standard policy. If the guest cancels, there is no refund. The 24-hour cancellation period still applies, except for certain non-refundable hotel listings.

6. Worked examples (illustration only, excluding fees)

- Firm, 4 nights at 100 per night = 400. Cancel 40 days before check-in: 400 refunded. Cancel 10 days before: about 200 refunded (50%). Cancel 3 days before: no refund of the nightly price (taxes refunded).
- Limited, same booking. Cancel 16 days before: full refund. Cancel 10 days before: 50%. Cancel 3 days before: none.
- 24-hour period: booking confirmed 20 days before check-in and cancelled 5 hours later: full refund under any standard policy. Booking confirmed 4 days before check-in: the 24-hour period does not apply.

7. When the host's policy is overridden

- A Major Disruptive Event prevents the stay (see Major Disruptive Events Policy).
- A covered reservation issue under the Rebooking and Refund Policy for Homes (host cancels, listing not as described, uninhabitable, no access).
- If the host was already paid and the policy is overridden, Airbnb may recover the money from the host's next payout.

8. Special cases by region

- California: separate 24-hour free cancellation rule for reservations in California.
- Italy: different cancellation rules applied to stays before October 1, 2025; service fee may be refundable until check-in.
- South Korea: different rules for South Korean guests at places with Strict policies.
- Germany: local rules apply; Airbnb has a dedicated Germany article.

9. Common questions

Q: How do I find the cancellation policy of a listing?

A: On the listing page before booking, and in your reservation details in Trips after booking.

Q: What does 'full refund including taxes' include?

A: The nightly price the host set plus taxes. Airbnb's service fee follows its own rules.

Q: What if I cancel after check-in?

A: Under Limited, Firm and Strict policies there is no refund. Flexible and Moderate charge nights stayed plus extra amounts but refund part of the unspent nights.

Q: Can I cancel for free just after booking?

A: Yes, within 24 hours of confirmation if the booking was confirmed at least 7 days before check-in (stays under 28 nights).

Q: Which timezone counts for deadlines?

A: The listing's local time zone.
